ADVANCED SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE

- Quantitative Research Design and Analyses: Experimental, Quasi-experimental, Logistic Regression, General Linear Regression, Sampling, Survey
- Qualitative Research Design and Analyses: Ethnography, Focus Group, Interviews, Thematic, Coding, Policy
- Big Data: Multiple Agency Databases for Reporting, Standardize Coding, Code Book Development, Analysis
- Statistical Programming and Database Management: SAS, Stata
- Program Evaluation and Design: Outcome, Process, Documentation Review
- Areas: STEM Education and Employment, Women Education and Employment, Veterans, Race/Ethnicity, Public Safety, Open Data

PROFILE

Methodological expertise in both quantitative and qualitative research design; collecting, managing, and analyzing large and small bodies of data; policy-related research design, data collection, and analysis; identifying and accessing data sources for previously designed projects. Gifted and innovative in identifying, designing, and applying mixed methods to projects. Strong background in leading multiple research projects simultaneously across many different policy areas. Excellent writing and editorial skills.

Extensive experience applying diverse research methods in government policy areas to answer questions from elected leaders, appointed officials, legislative committee consultants, and their staff. Strong leadership skills in diverse teams from different units, departments, and agencies. Excellent support for leadership when project role requires it. Skilled at maintaining relationships, building new ones, and identifying team member strengths. Remarkable listening skills.

RESEARCH, POLICY, AND EVALUATION EXPERIENCE

- Senior Policy Analyst (Research Program Specialist II): California Research Bureau, California State Library, 2012–current.

On assignment 75 percent time (July 2016–April 2017): Research consultant for CA Commission on the Status of Women and Girls' Pay Equity Task Force.

Coordinating staff for large and small internal and interagency research projects. Authoring short and long policy and research reports and privately requested research memoranda for legislative and executive branch decision-makers. Working closely with legislative committee consultants, legislative staff, and executive-level appointees. Editing solicited academic research for delivery to stakeholders. Core position involved qualitative and quantitative research design, implementation, and analysis. Member California Department of Education Annual STEM conference steering committee. Lead on research products for STEM conference. Lead for CA Commission on the Status of Women and Girls Research. Co-lead research for CalVet LGBT Veteran Leadership Forum. Project lead for mandated Unlawful Detainer Evaluation. Lead for research Assembly Committee of Aging and Long-term Care. Co-lead for Data Portal Workgroup and Metadata Catalog of State Administrative Databases. Member Open Data Workgroup.

- Research Program Specialist I: California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation, Juvenile Research Branch, 2009–2011. Provided data management, preparation, report standardization, coding, analysis, and writing of annual juvenile recidivism report using multiple-agency databases. Evaluated validity of court research compliance reports. Research subject matter expert for Farrell v. Cate Charter Committees. Committees included Gang and Violence, Re-entry, and Foster Youth Re-entry. Additional duties included contract management and evaluation of UC Irvine California Youth Assessment Screening Instrument (Ca-YASI) validation study and Gang and Violence study, research design, quantitative data analysis, report writing, data collection and analysis, daily base-SAS programming, SAS program writing and compilation to standardize report analysis.
- Doctoral Research: “Institutionalizing Difference: Racial Integration in California Prisons for Men.” University of California, Santa Barbara. Evaluated California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation Integrated Housing Program and policy prior to full implementation. Employed innovative mixed methods including ad hoc data collection, semi-structured interviews with 111 correction staff and inmates, ethnography, textual analysis, and quantitative and qualitative analysis to predict inmate reactions to and describe context for policy implementation. Emphasized the understanding of current institutional practices influence on cultural and policy change.
- Graduate Student Research Assistant: University of California, Santa Barbara, 2000–2007. Researched hate crime through court records, constructed bibliographies, used NUDIST ethnographic software, and copy edited book length manuscript. Emphasis on the collection of difficult to access data and records.
- Summer Research Mentor: University of California, Santa Barbara, 2005 and 2006. Guided accomplished high school mentees through construction of research questions, literature reviews, data collection and analyses, and writing.
- Masters Research: “Cooperative Integration: A Structural Geography of Primetime Program Production and Broadcast.” University of California, Santa Barbara: Studied the influence of policy on the production and broadcast ownership of primetime TV programming. Employed innovative social network analysis: hierarchical cluster analysis, structural equivalence profiles, multidimensional scaling, and indegree/outdegree procedures to map ownership before, during, and after major federal deregulation. Found ties between and among parent companies grew more and more similar with independent producers less frequently utilized and large parent companies both producing and broadcasting more primetime programs. Implications for analyzing the cooperative rather than vertical and horizontal integration of companies after deregulation.
